Forecast For Northwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Sunday 21 Nov 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Cold and frosty overnight.

This Evening and Tonight:
Skies staying largely clear overnight with winds also easing. This allows temperatures to drop, resulting in a cold night with the risk of frost quite widely across the region. Minimum temperature -2 deg C (28 deg F).

Monday:
A chilly start on Monday, but a sunny and dry day follows with clear skies and light winds. Temperatures slightly closer to average but still feeling on the cold side. Maximum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Increasingly cloudy through Tuesday but staying largely dry. Outbreaks of rain developing on Wednesday before it turns brighter, breezier, and colder again on Thursday.
